

Call for Abstracts

ARCH 2027

The Ritz-Carlton Hotel | St. Louis, Missouri | April 14–17, 2027

ARCH invites fellows, residents, and medical students to submit abstracts for ARCH 2027. Interesting Cases and Original Research will be presented in the Abstract Hall, where authors share their work with attendees and a panel of moderators. This is an opportunity to showcase your scholarship, spark discussion, and connect with faculty and peers from across the interventional community.

SUBMISSION CATEGORIES

Abstracts may be submitted in one of two categories:

- Interesting Cases — novel or challenging presentations, instructive complications and their management, unusual anatomy, and cases with a valuable teaching point.
- Original Research — original clinical, translational, or basic investigations, outcomes and registry analyses, and quality-improvement projects.

PRESENTATION & AWARDS

Accepted abstracts will be presented at the meeting alongside moderators who will facilitate discussion with the audience. Winning abstracts in each category will be recognized and will receive an award, announced during the meeting. Trainees with accepted abstracts will also be prioritized to receive a scholarship to attend ARCH 2027.

ELIGIBILITY

Submissions are open to fellows, residents, and medical students. The presenting author must be a trainee at the time of the meeting.
